	f St. James Parish		re: & so, as Christ is raised up to heaven the brings us with him into hara-

St. Cyril of Alexandria reminds us that what happens to Christ affects the whole human race; & so, as Christ is raised up to heaven, he brings us with him into paradise: "But now the Word, who had no part in human nature, has ascended in human form to appear in heaven in a strange & unusual manner. This he has done on our account, & for our sakes; so that he, though found as a man, while in human form may still, in his absolute power as Son, obey the command, Sit at my right hand, & so may transfer the glory of adoption through himself to all the human race. For since he was born as man he is still one of us as he sits at the right hand of God the Father, even though he is far above all creation; & he is also consubstantial with his Father, since he has come from him as truly God of God and Light of Light."
