VILLED BY THIS SACRAMENT TO LIVE IN

The Imitation of Christ, by Thomas a Kempis, Catholic devotional written in the 1400's, of onversations between a disciple & Christ, re. ving life as Jesus wills. The quotes below, om Book 4 on the Holy Eucharist, may help s be more open to the "Source & Summit of ne Christian life" & the grace Eucharistic Reival.

How little time I spend preparing myself to eceive Holy Communion. So rarely am I entirerecollected or free of distraction,...nor should) anything created occupy my mind, for is not an angel, but the Lord of angels whom I m about to entertain....how great the revernce & piety that I should have now in the presnce of this most Holy Sacrament & in receivng the glorious Body of Jesus Christ!

. You are present to me here on this altar, ly God, the Saint of saints, the Creator of all & he Lord of angels....here in the sacrament of the altar, You are entirely present, my God, the man Christ Jesus."

"How blind & hardened the heart which values so little this ineffable gift, treating the sacrament with such indifference & receiving it out of habit. I thank you, good Jesus, eternal Shepherd, because You have willed to feed us poor exiles with Your precious Body & Blood, & that You invite us to partake of these mysteries by words You Yourself said, 'Come to me, all who are weary & bear heavy burdens, & I will give you rest'." (Mt 11:28)

... We pray: "Excite in the heart of your servant, O Lord, an ardent desire for the Bread of Life, the Body & Blood of our Lord, Jesus Christ. At the same time inspire in me the holy dispositions necessary to receive Holy Communion worthily. / You, Lord of all things, do not need anything, but have willed by this Sacrament, to live in us./ Come, O Jesus, come & fill my heart with Your Love. Amen" Love in the Spirit. -Diana
